DUXBURY, MA. October 15, 2015

Ride your broomstick on over! Alden Kindred of America to host 13th Annual Alden Haunted House, a spooktacular evening of family fun Saturday, October 24th, from 4 to 8 PM. Admission cost of $5.00 includes the (mildly) frightful haunted home tour with Re-Enactors in the House, face painting, carnival games, haunted trail walk, and monster mash disco featuring classic halloween tunes for shaking off the sillies.

Pizza's from Duxbury's Fire and Stone Trattoria & Pizza; Great Cape Bakery Cider Doughnuts, Pumpkin Bisque from the Windsor House, Fresh Hot Apple Cider and many other tasty confections from Sugar Plum Bakery available onsite for sale.

Sponsors Duxbury Chimney Sweep and Foodies Markets have partnered with the Alden House to bring to life an eerie-sistable event with fun treats and giveaways. Alden House gift shop will also be open during the event.

About the Alden House Historic Site: The Alden House Historic Site was declared a National Historic Landmark by the Department of the Interior in 2008, the home and property upon which it rests, are part of the original land grant given to pilgrims John and Priscilla Mullins Alden in 1627. Alden Kindred's stewardship to this important piece of American history provides visitors with an intimate look at one of it's founding families.
